

Statement agreement

Please think about this statement. "For decades we have been recruiting too many young people on to university courses that do nothing to improve their life chances or help with their career goals" As a parent, to what extent do you agree or disagree with this statement?

